Our mission statement, which states that the school views education as a holistic experience and seeks to enable all students to reach their full potential. Its view of inclusion therefore, recognises that all children have learning and social needs, which change over their time in school, and that many children will at some point require extra support in an area of need.

The staff's support for inclusion is evidenced in its commitment to implementing the guidelines and procedures outlined in this policy and in the emphasis placed on informal interactions with the children. It is hoped that as a result, all children would see the school as a friendly and welcoming environment, where they are valued and where they feel a sense of belonging.
